

Anonymous Anonymous

What is the point in having a data center in New Mexico when we don't have a lot of water for our own community as is? This is incredibly detrimental to the locals and I for one do not want to have to deal with further water issues and potential noise complaints along with light pollution.