

Margaret Cunningham

As a health care and public health professional, I urge the Department to reject the project, which will severely threaten community health and well-being if approved.

If this project were helpful for New Mexico, the companies behind it would not have dumped so much money into deceptive PR campaigns to manufacture support for it. We, as ordinary humans, don't have that kind of budget to defend the truth.