

Miranda Padilla

New Mexico is a land of many people, people who have already been at the forefront of nuclear colonization. Our people have been suffering from ill decisions for generations. Our states precious land, water and people are worth more than any dollar. As a conservationist projects such as this bring us further from our goal to heal our planet for generations to come.