

Jeremy Bernstein

As a canvassing professional I read about the forgery of public comments of canvassers so this abuse of integrity should in itself lead to the denying of the permits along with environmental damage the data centers would cause. If the permits are not denied there should at least be a public hearing.