

Keegan Boyle

This project is extremely unpopular - for good reason - and this permit should not be approved without a reasonable chance for community involvement. The way that the county has handled this entire process has not been transparent, and we the people of New Mexico, and Dona Ana county deserve a real chance to affect whether megaprojects like this are built in our backyards. This is an unreasonable amount of air pollution for a new build when our state is actively trying to reduce dependency on fossil fuels.