

Clayton Bromley

We aren't going to have a future if this continues. AI is for money hungry corporations and billionaires and will rob us all of our lives. Having AI now is not beneficial, it's destroying our one and only planet. So what is it, generating an image of a cat riding a rollercoaster or clean drinking water? Is it really worth it to utilize something that makes you fundamentally dumber? Something that will make our planet unliveable in the near future?