

Nicole Arsenault

This project only stand to damage the already fragile ecosystem. Our state already struggles with water issues, and this project will strain our water resources. The project will also only temporarily spike job growth during construction. Data centers do not provide many long term jobs. Building this data center would be a huge mistake.