

Allan Borges

I am writing to express my support for project Jupiter. I heard some good things about the closed loop system, but would want some more information about how exactly that will work and if there are other facilities that use this technology and how they have fared and how much of their water they have actually retained over the years.

Sincerely,
Allan Borges