

Dan Jacquez

Data centers are hazardous for the environment and only benefit the billion dollar company who selfishly make them. There are major concerns about the tremendous amount of water usage and pollution that comes with building these centers. Please do not make them anymore and stop the construction of ones in progress.