

Grecia Jaramillo

-The data center will emit 10 million metric tons of carbon dioxide annually more than the annual emissions of Albuquerque, Santa Fe, and Las Cruces combined. - The RioGrande is already going through an Environmental threat, in addition with this data center would only increase the drought, and pollution of the RioGrande. - The bloom fuel cells operate between 800 through 1,000 degrees and will contribute to heat island in the local Santa Teresa community, raising neighborhood temperatures by 3.6 degrees or more. -The data center will emit 10 million metric tons of carbon dioxide annually more than the annual emissions of Albuquerque, Santa Fe, and Las Cruces combined. - The RioGrande is already going through an Environmental threat, in addition with this data center would only increase the drought, and pollution of the RioGrande. - The bloom fuel cells operate between 800 through 1,000 degrees and will contribute to heat island in the local Santa Teresa community, raising neighborhood temperatures by 3.6 degrees or more.