

Stella Soikkeli

This world is already in bad condition as it is, we do not need a single bit more danger to this world. If we want to keep living we have to stop hurting our world. Any person who supports this does not deserve to be in control of our earth. And this early isn't just our humans, it's animals too. They were here before us, they deserve a better home. We deserve a better home. We still have time to stop.