

Paul Cook

I am strongly opposed to granting the Yucca Growth air quality permit. Even with the fuel cell technology, this would add a huge amount of air pollution, more than that of Las Cruces and Albuquerque combined. This will have a major impact on people's health, particularly older residents, children, and those with respiratory illnesses like asthma. This would become a huge long term cost to the area, for people's health, as well as costs to residents for productivity and prosperity in the future. Please do not approve this permit. Giving a multi million dollar tax break to a company to increase pollution and health care issues for New Mexicans is unethical. Increasing New Mexicans' long term health issues is not beneficial to the state.