

Emil Anonymous

I am against taking away the natural resources from people just to benefit the 1% that can hide away from the consequences. They'll leave us to die of thirst, hunger and extreme temperatures while they invest in something that benefits only their wallets.