

John Arancherry

This is no way beneficial for us or for the environment around. Harming our already damaged environment will only bring hotter heat waves and kill millions of species.