

Jack Polansky

Simple, our freshwater is limited. Data centers run our freshwater dry. Freshwater runs the entire economy. A human necessity should not be a luxury, but that's what it will turn into if we have less water.