

Myles Ruiz

Being a New Mexico Native American for all of my life I understand that water is sacred we have preformed ceremonies and prayers to bring rain a project like this can make water even more scarce for local communities and could cause catastrophic damage to our environment