

rhianna genco

i am a lifelong new mexico resident & i am completely against project jupiter. investing absurd amounts of money into data centers & ai while continuously ignoring real issues we have in this state (homelessness, water shortages, outdated infrastructure, failures in the education system, etc.) is careless & cruel. our planet, our beautiful state, & our citizens deserve so much better than one of the world's largest proposed data centers causing more harm than good. any amount of jobs it could potentially create is completely irrelevant to me when data centers have been shown to cause heat surges in surrounding areas, reduce air quality, take up valuable fresh water, increase energy costs for nearby communities, contribute to pointless noise pollution; i could go on. having a large data center in a state whose main river & lake are actively drying up is one of the biggest mistakes i think we could make.