

anonymous anonymous

I don't live near this data center, but I know that this will be detrimental to people across the globe. To build a data center like this, you open up the flood gates and only more will come. this is a climate disaster and to build this is one of the most selfish disgusting things you can do. With this data center you will strip people of the water they depend on to live everyday and kill animals all around. Nothing is good about this data center. The people don't want it. AI kills the culture and leeches on our resources. Stop killing people and animals for something material.