

Edward ASHMEAD III

I strongly oppose the entire Jupiter project, as there is no way New Mexico can afford to expend the kind of water the project will require, nor can Mother Earth afford the kind of pollution this project will emit. These data centers need to be placed in parts of the world where water is abundant and with regulations in place so that full-scale renewable energy is utilized and monitored for enforcement.