

Phuong Nhung Nguyen

Project Jupiter is the most redundant project proposal ive ever seen. We dont need fucking AI or your surveillance centers, especially when you disrupt any piece of lands, the people's land or the nature land. I didnt grow up preserving as much of water as i could bc i was taught "Water is a finite resources and you cant waste it, there r people right now and generation to come that need it" just so that i grow up and 0.01% population hog it for selfish no good reason while the rest is struggle not to die from extreme drought and heat. This is nothing but a pollution center, the water scarcity, definitely worsen the air quality and gives hundred of million people lung cancer, destroy the land, destroy the environment, not just in New Mexico but around the world, permenantly disrupt the ecosystem there for bring more natural disaster that the people who already the most effected by this pj the more vulnerable.