

Travis Price

Let's face it, New Mexico doesn't have any water to spare. We need to protect our resources for our ranchers, farmers, and hunters. Furthermore, building a data center in southern NM is impractical due to the enormous energy costs of cooling an operation of this scale.