

Madison Emond

Do not do this! The Rio Grande is DRY! We have no water to spare! The water we have is for the crops, for people to drink, for the river to be full again. I cannot believe that we went from a prospective green energy revolution to the rapid development and implementation of a new, unnecessary technology that hogs a resource necessary for all living beings on this Earth. Data centers are irrelevant. Don't do this.