

Damian Muñoz

I know that as a 16 year old in New Mexico that my voice still matters. Though I'm not fully educated on the topic, I don't think it's that hard to understand that reaching for a better more sustainable climate is far more important than gathering data to fuel our media, get rich, and destroy the earth. I don't think anyone should be permitted to corrode New Mexican air with wealth driven waste.