

Anonymous Anonymous

Please do not make our environment any worse than it already is. By doing this our future generations will be forced to live in a world full of climate changing and the atmosphere will just continue to get worse. It is already at levels that would take thousands to millions of years of using sustainable resources and making active change to get back to the healthy atmosphere we had before. We are able to live on Earth due to the atmosphere protecting us from outer space and if that gets destroyed who knows what will happen to the human race. So on behalf of mankind please do not resort to this.