

Julie Yepa

Our beautiful state of New Mexico, the land of enchantment and our communities can not survive or live off of data. We need water and breathable air, things that are at risk and danger if we allow a data center no matter where it's being put. There must be other reusable energy ideas for jobs than creating jobs that risk the well being of everyone and everything.