

Anon Anon

I am a resident of one of New Mexico's neighboring states and I ask you to please put an end to this new data center. Not only has AI scientifically been proven to be a climate change threat, but also a noisemaker and a significant threat of livelihood and wellbeing to those who live around it, as well as animals in that ecosystem. Data centers, especially ones as large as Project Jupiter, are infamous for disrupting daily life and even the sleep of many as they produce harmful amounts of light and noise to keep their systems running. These two things combined are sure to create an unhealthy and unsafe environment for the people and creatures who live there. If you won't deny the permit, then at least give a public hearing to those who will most definitely be affected, in English and Spanish (with the option to participate virtually too), so they can be made known of these plans of building a data center. I am a teenager, so my thoughts might not be the most well-written ones, nor that I am the most intelligent and environmentally-aware person, but I know and understand enough about this that I worry that approving this permit will be hazardous and life-threatening to so many people. Please, if you want to help care for NM and its ecosystems, its societies, PLEASE do not approve this permit. Thank you for reading.