

Charlie Parker

Why are you building a data center when we don't have enough water for our communities? Would anyone from this company live next to it? What happens when all the construction jobs are gone? Which billionaires are making money off of this at the environment's and citizens' expense (assuming the pay to play and extreme subsidies as is usual in most other data center construction)?