

anonymous anonymous

I want to live, I wanna live in a world where I wouldn't have to worry about global heat that AI is currently worsening and you can't deny that, I wanna be able to live knowing that my future generations wouldn't have to live what we're living, I wanna be a part of a world that cares about its planet, this constant exploitation for resources is draining all of us, this "evolution" as in AI becoming a big thing is really not necessary, building that data center is just minimizing our chances of staying on this earth even further