

Leslie Nesbit

There is no reason to build any water guzzling ANYTHING in a desert. As the climate gets warmer our drought will get worse. If a data center gets built it will do nothing but drain our systems. How many jobs will they bring? That's all they think about! Money! Money does not hydrate a human body, the plants, or the animals. But that doesn't matter because the people getting the money will not be living in Dona Ana County