

Addison Mueller

I strongly oppose this project. The amount of water required for this project is not sustainable for the people living in the Rio Grande Basin or other arid regions. The air quality in the greater Las Cruces/ El Paso area is already one of the worst areas in North America, why would we add to this issue? The long-term cost to the community and the public outside of Las Cruces is too great. This project does not provide any benefits but to a few wealthy individuals who are already living above their means.