

Daniel Janes

Further destruction of our natural resources and infrastructure, with little proven benefit to our state, country, or culture. We are a water starved state that will feel the brunt of climate change in a very short amount of time. Focusing on sprawling data centers so billionaires can get richer is one of the biggest gifts of our time.