I am a resident of La Habra California and I'm using my voice for those of New Mexico, don't do this. There's already a limited water source in New Mexico and it'll become worse with it going towards that data center and not only that it'll affect the people of New Mexico. You may think it's beneficial and profitable but you're only thinking of the 1%, those who can afford better air quality, to live far from it and not hear the constant waves coming from it. Put the people first and not think of the money, you say need jobs are coming, do something else, do something better. I may not live in New Mexico, but I am doing all I can to stop this from happening to them.
