

Matt Early

I do not support any AI data centers being built. There is no way they will not drain our electricity or our water. AI does very little for Lac Cruces and gives money to the rich. Why would they even want to put computers that run hot in a desert where it will be hard to keep said computers cool enough to continue operation? Everything about AI smells of desperation and manipulation. If this isn't a giant Ponzi scheme then why would they want to put a bunch of computers in the desert?