

Kestrel Hensley

No to project Jupiter and no to their permits. The Rio is already bone dry and we're using more water than is being replenished. Current system strain is already unsustainable, we cannot survive any extra water usage, especially not data center levels. This is a threat to life and livelihood of everyone in New Mexico and SW Texas that rely on these waters.