

Natasha Nullius

"Our river is drying,
Our crops are dying,
Our people aren't thriving.
But still, they come to take.
Our water was taken,
Our dreams mistaken,
Our needs voted vacant.
But there's still money to make."
-Natasha Nullius, 2026

We do not want one more Google, Intel, Amazon, Facebook, or any other insincere giant company that comes in with promises only to take what little we have and the faith of New Mexicans when they inevitably leave.

These people buy land that holds a history all its own and that is home to what little wildlife and wild plants that can survive here.

We do not have enough to feed all of our children with New Mexican crops on New Mexican farms, nor enough water to sustain those crops, the livestock, the workers, the driller, the influx of snowbirds, the children, and the animals we share these borders with.

Please, don't sell out New Mexican futures and hope for Billionaire promises and mass produced assurances.

No one asked the citizens what they wanted. Not the ones who speak English OR Spanish.

No one held a community meeting that was accessible enough for the people who sustain the local economy and who sustain the image of the hearty New Mexican spirit.

We need thorough representation, time to learn all of our options, and a vote by all who will be affected directly and indirectly by this affront to our environmental progress and the eyesore of a building they're wrapping it in.

Sincerely,

Someone who didn't have to use A.I. to say what's on their heart.