

Orion Curtis

To whom this may concern,

I am writing this in opposition toward project Jupiter in Dona Ana county. I grew up in new Mexico as did my father, grandmother, great grandmother and so on and so forth. In my life time I have seen the winters become mild and dry, the wild fires increase, the rivers run slower and the lakes decrease in water level. In a state that is already in a drought, we do not need this. The promise of jobs for the community is a false promise as we're one of the least educated states, they will be hiring those from out of state, and not putting the money they claim they will be into our community. Our land is precious and beautiful and also fragile. We cannot afford this strain on our already precarious ecosystem. Please think of the future generations not just the short term promises that will inevitably be false. I want to raise children and grandchildren in my home and share the beautiful place that made me who I am. I have never written one of these before , but I care deeply about our state and want to preserve it for everyone, not just the profits of people who have no interest in our culture and communities. Take it to a place where there is an abundance of water , not in the middle of the desert. Common sense.