

Sofia Lopez

NM is already in a drought there are many places that barely have water for irrigation. Project Jupiter would take from the people who need this water to make a living, animals who live here and many other people. Air pollution would also harm many people especially people with existing respiratory problems it would also pollute our environment and many plants could be in danger.