

April Cox

I'm absolutely opposed to pursuing any project when our water systems are already under great stress just to sustain the bare minimum of life. Why would we waste our time and energy and resources on a project that will bring no lasting or longterm benefit to our community. It will only increase the heat, make our air quality even worse, and have a lasting detrimental effect on our health here in New Mexico.