

Joseph Hammond

We don't need data centers let alone the biggest one built in New Mexico. We are dealing with extreme water usage as it is and this will bring more problems than the ones we are currently dealing with, plus ruining the air quality.