

Victoria Stanton

I do not support this. It is morally, environmentally and ethically wrong to have these being built as they are. The lies the companies are using to get them built are an issue as well as them impersonating our local people saying they agree with it when they don't. Is this really what new mexico wants to get in bed with?