

Avery Cornish

The fact that people are even considering allowing project Jupiter to continue when it's well known how disastrous the effects of the pollution will be on the local communities and environment is appalling to anyone with a shred of morality and integrity.