

Elizabeth Sanderson

I am writing to express my disapproval and lack of support for Project Jupiter, which I believe would be a significant detriment for all New Mexicans.

Project Jupiter would be taxing on local infrastructure, contribute to water shortages in an area already affected by climate change and drought, and produce very few long-term benefits. The number of permanent jobs created by this project is minimal. The project creates significant risk to the environment, including to animal habitat and water quality.

I urge the New Mexico Environment Department to deny this project.

-Liz Sanderson