

DeWitt Henderson

Las Cruces & El Paso already have some of the worst air quality in the nation, according to CBS News, Las Cruces Sun News, and other sources. And my own observations over the past couple of years, especially, as it's gotten worse. So more air pollution from ANY source will be further detrimental to people's health in the area. It's affecting me personally.