

Joe Lambert

To whom it may concern;

I am somebody who has been active in information technology as an educator for 40 years. I see the great need for New Mexico to find means to increase access to technology for the citizens of our state. However, this project comes at a time where it is clear, no policy framework exists to regulate the use of artificial intelligence in our schools, our homes, our civic life. Without that, we are simply allowing the richest and most powerful companies buy us off with projects that undoubtedly add to our states income and resources, but put us in the position as accomplices in their activities for which there is almost no accountability. Come back in five years when we have AI Oversight at the Federal, State and Local level, and then we can consider projects like this. I strenuously oppose this project's approval.