

Alicia Royal

We are in a desert which means limited water for us anyways. Especially now with the increase in temperature. The last thing we need is a data center making our water situation worse. I want clean drinking water for my family and my community.