Look, I'm just a student trying to survive in this modern world. I have so much of my life ahead, and I should feel safe. But sometimes it feels like I won't be able to get a proper future. Climate change has really made an impact on our world. It's OUR responsibility to make sure it doesn't get worse, considering the fact we contribute to it too. Even in school, we practice proper segregation to avoid trash everywhere. Now, this Project Jupiter thing is crazy. I think about how much impact this could do. To our environment, to the community, let's try to think critically here. When it comes to projects like these, we consider not just the pros, but also the cons. Project Jupiter isn't the only wrong thing. There are so many factors that can possibly DESTROY our world. Think of the children who still want a future. Think of the parents who want a safe world. Let's work together to keep Earth safe after all it does and provides for us. Remember, no Earth, no life. There is no Planet B.
