

Mia diaz

We are already close enough to not be able to stop climate change doing this only solidifies that there will be no more hope for clean water or air for us and the other animals and plants on this earth.

We only have one planet and we are killing our selves with useless data centers that we never needed is the first place.

The public should be given an additional 60 days to review and comment on the air quality permit so community members can participate equitably.