

Miley Paul

Hello, my name is Miley Paul. I am under the age of 18 but I still believe my voice should be heard. All I wonder is if my future will be promising. I want to travel to all countries in the world but I feel that I won't be able to because of projects like these that are starting to be ongoing all around us. I feel that I won't have anything to look forward to after graduating high school and college. I know many people who already struggle with health issues so if this project were to happen it would make everything worse for them and for even more people in the future. Now with this project ongoing the only thing people seem to worry about is how their future will be. Many know that the world does not need to rely on AI to do anything for them. All I ask is that this project will be stopped to ensure protection on wildlife and restore the environment to a healthy and prosperous present and future for us and ongoing generations.
