don't build this stupid data centre. ai is already bad enough- using tons of water, partly responsible for climate change. do we really need another fucking data centre? even kids have to speak up about what's going on. you can't look at the wildlife around you and think 'yeah who cares about them let's just build more data centres!' your gonna regret building this when you have no clean water and climate change gets so bad that it's not even safe to go outside. this is already happening in some places because of selfish idiots like you. open your eyes
