

Amy Logan

Project Jupiter cannot stand. Not only will it affect wild life, air and water quality but also further pollute our natural environment through noise and space. This project is plain and thoroughly selfish, it ignores the concerns of 7 out of 10 people. And what about the people in surrounding communities? What about native people who have connection to the land? The problem possibilities this project is causing are endless. No amount of sugar coating and postponing will make people side with this. It's disgusting and an another huge sign of corporate greed.